thinkSRSD Professional Development Workshop

Build Social-Emotional Learning & Critical Thinking Via Writing: Structured Writing Instruction that Works

thinkSRSD is the community of teachers and researchers who use and study SRSD - Self Regulated Strategy Development. Join us for a two day workshop at TCNJ to:

Discover easy-to-implement and time-efficient ways to revolutionize and re-inspire how you teach writing.

Learn pre-writing strategies that help students make deeper meanings of trade books, classics and relevant paired texts so they can generate fresh insights when they write about them.

Teach scaffolds and structures for navigating the writing process in collaborative, personalized ways, that won't curb voice.

Help your students become more strategic, empowered, independent and goal-oriented writers, and thinkers.

Help your students master the reading standards through how they talk and write about these.

Led by Pooja Patel a learning specialist who teaches Middle School English and Humanities at the United Nations International School. She is also the co-director of thinkSRSD, an organization committed to helping educators, schools, and organizations utilize evidence-based literacy instruction. She has taught graduate students at Teachers College, Columbia University.
